

Informal/Sensory Curriculum – Kirkleatham Hall School

Intent : Every learner has their own curriculum. It is built specifically for them based on their skills and desired outcomes. It is Broad in that it covers all aspects of their development. It is Balanced in that it weighs up, specifically for them, the input that is needed. It is completely integrated therapeutic input, sharing targets and methods. It takes into account parents' aspirations and ideas

We ensure the curriculum is 'Broad & Balanced' through: Creative and flexible timetabling
Interesting and diverse topics Specialised 'theme' events in departments and across the school

Each child accesses a range of different activities with key focus on all of their profiles throughout. Each profile includes where the child is currently in their development and include next steps in their development.
